HISTORY OF MICROWAVES

From Weapons to Your WiFi

FREE LECTURE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO WITH

BARRIE TROWER

Physicist & Former British Secret Service Microwave Weapon Specialist

During the Cold War, Barrie Trower's job for the British Secret Service was to debrief spies who were using stealth microwave weapons. Most notably, the Russians pulsed microwaves at the American Embassy where staff developed leukemia and other sicknesses.

Today, Barrie Trower is shocked to see the proliferation of microwave technologies – WiFi, cell phones, cell towers, and more. THE HISTORY OF MICROWAVES: FROM WEAPONS TO WIFI will give you an understanding of microwave radiation from an insider who now speaks openly to governments, police, and the public.

Open Letter from Barrie Trower:

The Communications Industry, because of its usefulness to Government, Finance, Intelligence gathering and Warfare, is really in the position where it is spiralling out of any person's ability to control it, with regard to advancing technology.

Initially, all systems "pulsed." However, when it was realised that stealth microwave warfare relies on entrainment of a brain from such pulses (now being used as a domestic instrument) the pulses had to be re-named as "modulations." The difference between them is infinitesimally small, but the effect is just the same. Only the name has changed. I believe that this explains the dramatic changes in behaviour we are now witnessing - group suicides, disruption in schools, aggression and so on.

Over the years, I have compiled a list of known entrainment responses (followed by long-term potentiation) from these microwaves. It should be appreciated that each person will respond slightly differently, although the same area of brain/temporal/amygdaloid temporal/parotid/etc., will remain the same.

 It is worth mentioning that a mobile phone with a pulse/modulation frequency of 25 could act directly on visual sight (if being held at head), or heartbeat (if in a chest pocket). A frequency of 25 can disrupt both visual and heart neurotransmitters.

Clearly a susceptible person may have any combination of these. Electrosensitive persons may recognise many of their own symptoms. My work on electrosensitivity and the brain can be found on www.mastsanity.org.

I think the problem is that young Governments and young communications engineers have no knowledge of Cold War warfare and don't know who to ask; even if they did, the Government would probably be in denial. The situation is a mess, made worse by greed.

If anyone would like clarification of any of the foregoing, or I can help in any way, please let me know.
